California Ranch News

Shipping of navel oranges for the Christmas trade from Redlands was well under way early in the month, with most of the packing houses sending out a few cars. The weather has been almost ideal with warm days and cold nights, which has brought out the color in the fruit and given the oranges a good flavor.

Guy Lowe, potato grower of the Woodville district, started digging a sixty-five acre tract of tubers late in November, which were conspicuous for their fine quality and size. The potatoes were of the White Rose variety. Mr. Lowe estimates his yield at from 175 to 225 sacks to the acre. The potatoes were planted ninety days before harvest. Some of them, put on display in Porterville, weighed from two to four pounds each.

Fumigation of 6,590 acres of citrus groves in Riverside County for citricola and black scale, has been accomplished this year. This includes 565 groves, with 560,206 trees. There were thirteen licensed fumigators in the field, with thirty crews at work. Total cost of the process this season, exceeding that of last on account of the higher price of HCN gas, was $236,478.70. Cost per acre was $35.88, as against $28.80 in 1926.

Approximately $100,000 worth of turkeys will be shipped from Biggs before February 15th, the cargo going mainly to Los Angeles and to San Francisco markets. Eight cars will be shipped by the California Poultry Company of San Francisco, carrying what F. E. Keene, their local manager, estimates to be 200,000 pounds of local turkeys. Prices are running 38 cents and 39 cents per pound to the growers. A. Stokes, one of the largest growers in Biggs, expects to ship 30,000 pounds of turkeys this month.

Payment of approximately $42,000 was distributed last week to growers of sweet potatoes of the Turlock district, covering the last of the November pools. The distribution was made by the Merced-Santa Stanislaus Sweet Potato Growers' Association. With last week's payment the total returned to growers for this season has reached the $220,000 mark, it was announced. Shipment of cellar stock has been under way since the first of this month and will continue throughout the winter, it was announced. Twenty cars of this class of sweet potatoes have gone out in the past fifteen days.

Thousands of head of cattle and sheep from Arizona are being shipped into the San Joaquin Valley to fatten on the abundant wild feed on the west side plains of Fresno, Kern and Kings counties. Last year there was not enough stock to consume the unusually large amount of good pasture. This coming year bids fair to be even better for feed, for there is now good pasture on the west side for both cattle and sheep, and there never has been such a favorable season for lambing, which is now in progress. Joe P. Lemon, one of the largest owners of sheep in this part of the valley, states that in the entire twenty-eight years he has been in the business he never saw such a favorable season.

Results for November, the first month of the ninth annual California Farm Bureau Egg-Laying contest with headquarters at Santa Cruz, indicate that new records of production will be established this year. Some of the best poultry establishments in several states are represented in the competition, including several winners of 1927 out-of-state contests. Arizona, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Michigan and British Columbia flocks are entered. A pen of White Leghorns, owned by the Alberta Ranch of Santa Cruz, won first honors in the light class for November, with a production of 181 eggs.

If fair weather continues, virtually all of the rice planted in the Biggs district, Butte County, will be harvested by Christmas, rice authorities claim. The north wind and sunshine have dried up the lands sufficiently that tractors and men are again at work bringing in the rice. Where it has to be trucked for any distance, it is not being out, as the cost of harvesting is almost as high as would be paid the grower. The rice around Chico is practically all in the warehouse, while about 80 per cent is in around Richvale and Biggs.

Golden State

News of Interest to All

Completion of the inspection and licensing of 352 maternity hospitals and homes in California having a total of 2,391 beds, was announced last week by the State Department of Public Health. Licenses were granted to 213 hospitals and 139 maternity homes.

Will Rogers, humorist and erstwhile mayor of Beverly Hills, was last week urged to give up his cowboy togs and seek the toga of a United States Senator. State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson announced that "in all seriousness" he is not only advocating Rogers as Senator from California, but has sent the comedian a telegram proposing that he stand for office at the 1928 election against Senator Hiram Johnson.

The State Highway Commission now is making replacements of trees along the 685 of state highways now tree-lined. The trees include black walnut, European sycamore, Arizona ash, black locust. Counties in which highway replacements are to be made include, among others, Sacramento, Yolo, Colusa, Glenn, Butte, Tehama, Sonoma, Solano, Napa, San Joaquin, Placer, Humboldt and Lake counties.

To combat infantile paralysis or other children's diseases, a perpetual gift, amounting to $5,000 a year, has been made to the University of California, according to announcement from President W. W. Campbell. The anonymous donor, "A Friend of the University," stipulated that the fund be controlled by the Hooper Foundation for Medical Research, "primarily for the study, prevention and cure of infantile paralysis in California." He requested that the money should not be diverted to other purposes unless "some other serious epidemic threatens the lives of the children of this state."

California's total estimated daily average crude oil production fell off 3,300 barrels during the week ended December 17, figures released last week by the American Petroleum Institute show. The total estimated daily production for the entire state for the week of the report was 624,100 barrels, compared with 627,400 barrels for the week ended December 10. Greater fluctuations in the major producing fields was a drop of 3,000 barrels at Seal Beach, where production was 43,000 barrels, compared with 46,000 barrels the previous week. Ventura avenue increased to 53,900 barrels from 51,900 barrels.

Kern county has a total of 23,975 minors under 18 years of age, according to county-wide census just completed and now filed with the state by County Superintendent of Schools L. E. Chenoweth. In addition there are 1,520 children whose residence is migratory and whose parents are engaged primarily in cotton-harvesting at this time.

There are approximately 100 lepers now in California, it was estimated last week by Dr. Walter M. Dickie, state director of public health, passing this report to Governor Young on data gathered by health authorities in past investigations. Dr. Dickie said 71 lepers have been sent from California to the Federal leprosarium at Carville, La., since 1922. Many unfortunate sufferers from the disease however, remain in hiding, he said.

Another case of tularemia—the second to come to his attention within a month—has been reported to the city health department at Sacramento by Dr. Samuel J. Wells. The second victim contracting it, as did the first, by contact with rabbits he killed while hunting. Tularemia is a plague-like disease with symptoms similar to typhoid. The cases reported in Sacramento are believed to have been the first ever reported in California. The disease is most common among rodents and rabbits. In a bulletin issued recently, the state board of health says the disease is not easily spread from person to person and that there is no danger that it may ever become epidemic.

The State Highway Commission, meeting January 12, will allocate approximately $9,000,000 in gasoline tax revenues to be available for new state highway construction during the present biennium, and will work out a definite budget covering proposed expenditures for the two-year period which ends June 30, 1929. Bert B. Meek, state director of public works, announced last week that the allocation will designate sums intended for use on San Francisco's Bay Shore highway, the Skyline boulevard and the other state primary and secondary projects. Under the 1927 Breed bill, increasing the gasoline tax to finance new construction, 75 per cent of the revenues will go for primary routes and 25 per cent for secondary routes.

MEXICAN IMMIGRANT LABOR THREATENS U. S. WORKERS

Various farm organizations are combining to bring more Mexican laborers into the country. They say there is a shortage of labor, and unless the immigration law is amended, which limits Mexican immigration, as well as that from other countries, the farmer will have no help to harvest his crop. Labor men are combating the idea. They say it is a subterfuge to bring more cheap labor over the borders, and thereby lower the standard of living, and so they will fight the farmers on this score.

John E. Pickett, editor of the Pacific Rural Press, one of the farmer's leading journals, sent the Press the following statement on the controversy:

San Francisco, Calif.,
December 24, 1927.

DEAR SIR:

We are jointly interested in the welfare of agriculture, so I take the liberty of suggesting a rapidly sharpening issue caused by the introduction in Congress of the box bill (H. R. 6465) "To amend the Immigration act of 1924, by making the quota provisions thereof applicable to Mexico, Cuba, Canada and countries of continental America and adjacent islands."

California agriculture is particularly interested in this law as applied to Mexico, because this State has become so dependent upon Mexican labor to harvest its cotton and its fruit, and to supply labor for its $60,000,000 vegetable industry.

Probably most of us agree that immigration should be limited and that we should avoid the social and racial problems of unrestricted entry, but it seems likely that if Mexican immigration is shut off abruptly, without opportunity of adjustment, we will face disaster. Under the quota provision, about 1575 Mexicans could come into the United States in one year, less than enough for one county's needs.

Unfortunately there is a great lack of exact facts regarding the Mexican situation. No one knows how many Mexicans there are in this State, or how many our ranches, railroads and other industries use. It is estimated that 80 per cent of their return to Mexico after harvest, but this is un-official. We don't know exactly how much of a social and racial problem they are.

However, all farm organizations of the State agree that the situation is very serious, and they unite in asking Congress to appoint a study commission and get the facts so that action taken

If Mexicans are barred, there is left will be well considered and constructive. as a labor reservoir to draw on, the Southern negro, Porto Rican negroes and Filipinos. These cannot be barred out, nor can they be deported, if we become dissatisfied with them. So they might present a much greater problem than the "homing pigeon" Mexican.

All of these are facts the Congressional committee may well look into; and the California Development Association, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and various groups of farmers have joined the regular farm organizations in asking that we get the facts before we act. Our paper heartily concurs in this.

Very sincerely,
John E. Pickett, Editor.

JOHNSON SAYS CALIFORNIA WILL BOOST BIG DAM

United States Senator Feels That
This State Will Go the Limit to Reach an Adjustment with Neighbors.

(By SENATOR HIRAM JOHNSON)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28, 1927.—The bill introduced this session authorizing the Boulder dam project, is substantially the bill that was before the last Congress. Both measures are written around the Colorado river compact, in order that the upper basin states may be thoroughly protected in the allocation of the waters of the Colorado river. The Federal Government has the undoubted right to direct that the waters stored in any remedial work of the Government shall be utilized in a specific fashion, and the Boulder dam project shall be utilized in a specific fashion, and the Boulder dam project contemplates use in accordance with the Colorado river compact.

Telegraphic advices from California advise me that negotiations are being actively carried on at the present time to compose the differences existing among the states. I am hopeful that these may result in an agreement. I know that California will go the limit in the endeavor to reach an adjustment and that the representatives of California will go the limit the man in formia are acting upon this theory. Because they will go much more than half way, I feel that it is by no means impossible that within a very brief period, the lower basin states will present a united front in behalf of this beneficial measure. In any event, the need is so pressing and the advantages of the project so obvious, that we shall go forward as best we can with the bill in Congress.

Standing by the entrance of a large estate in the suburbs of Dublin are two huge dogs carved out of granite. An Englishman going by in a motor thought he would have some fun with the Irish driver. "How often do they feed those two big dogs?" Whenever they bark, sir," was the straightforward reply.

"That, sir, is a falsehood!" severely said the schoolma'am. "Do you know what will happen to you if you tell lies?" "Yes'm," nonchalantly replied Skinny Simpson. "I'll go to Hell and burn." "Worse than that! You will be expelled from school!"—Kansas City Star.

CAMPBELL P. O. MAKES 2ND CLASS

Campbell may well feel proud of her growth and progress. As an unincorporated town, the business of her citizenry has been such that it has placed the postoffice in the second class. Last week the postal receipts by a steady healthy growth and no extra heavy individual heavy sales, passed the dividing line on which the official classification is based.

This season's business has been larger and more efficiently and speedily handled than ever before.

This was made possible by the intelligent and hearty co-operation of our loyal patrons and the sincere thanks of the entire office force is extended to all who helped make this one of the most delightful Christmas seasons of service in our experience.

The fact that this office has made the second class is a source of gratification and pride to all our citizens and it places the community more in the publicity sun in the eyes of the outer circle of associates. Here's to a larger and better Campbell. May her shadow never grow less.

GRANGERS PLANT CHRISTMAS TREES

A number of enthusiastic Orchard City Grangers set other citizens of our community a most commendable example Wednesday, when they planted two small redwood trees at the back of the grange lot. These trees had served as Christmas trees at the grange meeting the night before.

They stand about four feet high and, with proper care, should, in a few years get a good start on their long life. When we consider their possible growth for several thousand years, one is led to contemplate what wonders and progress they may live to share.

Each one present had a part in the work of planting, the good ladies lending willing hands as well.

The party was headed by Master and Mrs. Harry Barnes, secretary Edna Keesling, lecturer, Jessie McChesney and treasurer, F. S. Newcomb, others being Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Keesling, E. K. Clendenen, Wm. Woodbury, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Husted, Norman Husted, H. C. Smith and J. C. Gordon, official grange photographer.

He, who plants a tree, erects a growing monument to his creator that will become more and more a blessing to his fellow men. 'Tis done.

Final Tilt Tonight

The final practice game between the Campbell's unlimited and 130's, and the Los Gatos teams will be played this evening. The league games begin thereafter and the two schools are not in the same district divisions so will not contend in league games.

The contingency of the two groups are class A: Tainter, Krohn, Murdock, Hamilton, Duncan, Clouser, Buccellato, S. Merrill, Landry; and class B: Lynden, M. Shadle, L. Shadle, Cl. Berger, Ch. Berger, Maxwell, Kosick, May, Shank, McCoy, Willis, Lovoi, Stubbe.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Fay enjoyed an unusual Christmas dinner when all of Mr. Fay's family were together for the first time in 20 years. Surrounding the table were Mrs. X. F. Billings of Montello, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fay and son, James of Petaluma; Mr. and Mrs. Weaver, Mr. A. A. Fay and daughter, Ethel; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Stringer, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Walcott of San Jose and the hosts. Mr. and Mrs. Leland Weaver joined the company in the evening.

KIWANIS OFFICERS INSTALLED TUESDAY

Secretary Roy Archibald read a season's greeting letter from Governor Wendell Thomas to the Kiwanis Club at Tuesday luncheon.

The Club presented to retiring President T. A. Cutting, a fountain pen desk set and international emblem. Guy Farley, as chairman presented a desk calendar pad as attendance prize, said prize to adorn the postmaster's desk for the coming year.

Our own club member Jos. Bennett gave a short descriptive talk on the Christmas season as carried out in England.

There seems to be a different Christmas spirit in the English metropolis than shown here, because of old customs. The streets are packed with curb toy salesmen and shoppers at the Christmas time not permitted at other seasons of the year. The day after Christmas is known as boxing day from the custom of presents to be given to mail carriers, milkmen and other public servants. All children learn the carols and carol singing by old and young is a very common custom by many for the money they may solicit for their efforts.

Toys are always given the children and the exchange of greeting cards is about the same as here. The 26th is also a day of visiting and sports. Father Christmas is the more common name given Santa Claus.

The announcement by Harry Smith that the postoffice had climbed into second class during the year 1927, was received by the club with much applause for the club and its activities have aided materially in building up the town business.

On the call of the president five were reported 100 per cent in attendance for 1927 and two, Russ Kennedy and Harry Smith, 100 per cent since the organization of the club.

Tuesday will be the day for installing the newly elected officers for the coming year and Warren Ayer of Los Gatos, lieutenant-governor of this district will officiate.

COMMUNITY TREE A PRETTY SIGHT

Isn't it gorgeous? The most beautiful I've seen. These and many other highly complimentary remarks are heard on every side about the famous "Roosevelt Redwood," Campbell's newly dedicated community Christmas tree that lighted for the first time last week Thursday.

The work of wiring is a real bit of art done by the farm mechanics class under the direction of Wilbur Whitney and was accomplished without so much as breaking a twig. The tree is a perfect Christmas tree, about 60 feet high tipped with a huge star that can be seen for miles. Many Tourists pass the school grounds each night just to see this beautiful sight, and Campbell is getting much praise for its enterprise and artistic taste.

On the initial night of lighting of the tree, the Campbell Choral Society, under the direction of Mr. Benjamin Edwards sang choruses and corals from the high school steps beside the tree and the campus and streets were well filled with people, who came to see and hear. Many complimentary remarks were heard of the singing. Later the society motored to San Jose and sang from the KQW broadcasting station at Sherman, Clay & Co's. Music Store.

One of the noteworthy facts of this society's work is that their radio singing was all done a capella, without accompaniment, which is one of Mr. Edwards' hobbies.

O. W. Baker of Pentz, Cal., is the originator of a seedless lemon. At the Orange and Olive Exposition held at Oroville he exhibited his fruit and explained the development of it. "Several years ago I budded my sweet seedling orange trees with a navel orange and an Eureka lemon. The fruit was navel oranges and lemons. I noticed the lemons were seedless and pruned the tree down to the lemon branches. The fruit has since been of good quality and seedless. Baker, also has in his orchard a seedless orange tree which bears navels, seedless lemons, limes and grapefruit.

The persimmon season at Tustin has closed, with the shutting down of the packing house operated by the Southern Orange County Persimmon Growers' Association. About 150 tons of fruit were packed this season, under the standard specifications of the new marketing association. The first straight carload of persimmons ever shipped from Southern California originated at the Tustin house this fall. Since then several carloads have been shipped to various eastern points.

California will eventually have a population of 50,000,000. Capt. Robert Dollar, steamship magnate, predicted last week in the course of discussing the meeting next February 8 and 9 at Honolulu of the Western division of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Captain Dollar said: The commercial development on the Pacific Coast will in time demand a population of 50,000,000 people in the State of California. Here, in the western empire, we will find the commercial and population center of the world.

The cotton estimate for Madera County is around 5,200 bales, valued at $520,000. About 2,600 tons of cotton-seed have been produced, valued at $78,000. The cotton crop in itself, and a wonderful grade of cotton is raised in Madera County, is thus valued at $598,000. A prominent grain merchant in Madera estimates that about 50,000 sacks of barley and 212,000 sacks of wheat were raised in the county during the 1927 season. The value of the barley crop would be about $962,500 and that of the wheat about $500,000.

There's no such thing as unemployment. Those who are out a job are usually busier than anybody else looking for one.

Another Blue Law

If you are idle, want something to do, and don't believe in the old Puritan Sunday, when it was a crime to play croquet or go swimming, write Congressman Arthur A. Free, or a Senator, and tell him you don't approve of that bill, now introduced in Congress, regulating the Sabbath observance in the District of Columbia. This is a real old blue law. If it passes, the people of this district won't be able to play golf Sundays, or go into the country on a picnic, or the farmers won't be able to pitch horseshoes, that is, if there are any farmers in the district. Then, again, if the law goes on the statute books, the persons backing it, will take heart and try and push it through the legislature of California and other states. A Georgia Congressman is waging the fight for the blue law, and he claims to have a war chest of a $1,000,000. So look out. If you wish to give voice to a protest to such legislation, now is the time to send a communication to our Congressmen or Senators at Washington.

Green Pastures

The grass is always greener across the fence in the other pasture.

So says the cynic, the failure, the knocker, the ne'er-do-well, and the discontent.

Their outbursts are their method of satisfying themselves of what they want to be, and of excusing themselves for what they are.

All things considered there is no better town than one's home town, for it is not home to one who thinks otherwise.

No town is better to live in, no business houses better to deal with, no people better to be neighbors to, no area better to produce from,—no pastures any greener than those that enclose the dear old spot that is truly made the home town. Campbell comes up splendidly to these requirements.

Those who revel in the great national sport of dissatisfaction with the home town are all wrong unless they help to make it better.

The Prodigal Son thought the pastures across the fence were better, but he found only dry husks to feed upon. He thought the associations out in the world were better, but he lived among the swine.

Remember this: the other dissatisfied fellow, in the other town, also voicing discontent; and the fault is not with the respective towns but with the respective points of view.

Saying conditions are bad, that business is poor, or that the town is slow is destructive criticism of the worst sort.

The word Campbell of itself is an inanimate thing: it depends for its life, its growth and its prosperity upon YOU!

It is YOU who can make YOUR OWN pasture as green as any other.

It is YOU who can TURN ADVERSITY INTO SUCCESS; in a small way if you will, in a large way if you can.

It is no particular credit to a man how many towns he has lived in, how many businesses he has "run," or how many jobs he has held. The men who make history are in the main permanent settlers—the masters of a single business and the

Mrs. W. T. Hawthorne, executive secretary of the Sacramento chapter of the American Red Cross, has called attention to the fact that midnight on December 31st will mark the closing of the period during which World War veterans may file for their adjusted service certificates. Mrs. Hawthorne urged all ex-service men who have not filed to do so at once, as this is the means by which the World War veterans are allotted their paid up insurance policies.

The announcement she will attempt a transcontinental, trans-Atlantic flight from Holy City, in the Santa Cruz mountains in California, to Rome via New York in a plane which will be an exact replica of Colonel Lindbergh's was made at San Diego last week by Evelyn Rosencantz, secretary to William E. Riker, founder of Holy City. Riker is financing the project.

Plans for the construction of a new hospital unit at the Sonoma State Home for the Feeble Minded and the Preston School of Industry are nearing completion. So announces Earl E. Jensen, state director of institutions. Jensen also said that the department is now considering a plan for devoting a building at one of the state institutions to the treatment of narcotic addicts, with the possibility that a second building may be put to use later.

The selection of Fresno as the place of the annual meeting for 1933 and adoption of September 25 to 30, inclusive, as tentative dates of the "Fresno District Fair" in 1928 were features of the closing session of the Western Fairs Association in San Francisco last week, according to a message from Treffe R. LeSevey, secretary of the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce, who was present at the meeting.

Two million sets of automobile license plates for 1928! This is the expectation of the California State Motor Vehicle Division, which last week opened the issuance of the plates through all branch offices and at the branches of the automobile clubs. It is estimated 1,500,000 sets of plates will be issued during the renewal period.

Little Alice was taken on a visit to a peacock farm. The mother was busily engaged in conversation when her small daughter ran up breathlessly. "O Mother, come quick! There's an old chicken out in the yard that is in full bloom."—Children, a Magazine for Parents.

CYNTHIA PALMER LAID TO REST

Mrs. Cynthia Palmer, one of those noble pioneer women, who came across the plains in a covered wagon in 1858, passed to her reward December 21, at the age of 86, after a short illness at her home on Page street.

In 1858, she arrived near Marysville. She was married in 1860 to Richard Wallace Palmer at Lancha Plana and lived for some years in the mining region in and near Jackson. The family moved to Santa Cruz in 1885, where they lived for a number of years before coming here.

Six children were born to them, W. W. Palmer of Campbell, G. S. Palmer of Long Beach, Mrs. Caroline Erwin of Sierra Madre, Miss Palmer of Campbell and Cynthia McDonald of San Francisco, who survive her and Mrs. Aledaide Morton, who passed away some time ago.

Herold W. Morton of Campbell is one of the surviving grand children. Mrs. Palmer was a most lovable character and her passing is mourned by a host of friends. Funeral services were held Saturday, followed by cremation at Mt. Olivet cemetery.

The members of the class of '23 of the Campbell Union High School held a reunion dinner at the Saint Claire Hotel last Friday evening. Of the thirty members of the class all but five were present. Mr. R. E. Noddin, class advisor, was also in attendance.

Motorist Bags Big Black Bear In Humboldt

E. V. Carroll, California hunter, with a 585-pound black bear, and the Oakland All-American Six sedan which he used to get his bear from the freight warehouse. This is one of the three bears which Carroll and his hunting companion, James B. Patterson, bagged on their last trip to Humboldt County.

California was the fifth largest exporter in order of value among the states during the second quarter of 1927, with exports of merchandise valued at $74,846,100, compared with $66,734,615 for the corresponding period of 1926, an increase of $8,111,493, according to figures made public last week by the department of commerce at Washington. Gasoline valued at $16,627,825 ranked first in order of value among California's exports during the three-month period. Gas and fuel oil exports were valued at $3,304,402. Other commodities ranking high in value were kerosene, $6,110,479; oranges, $4,378,317; unmanufactured cotton, $3,621,415; barley, $1,994,218; dried raisins, $1,826,243; boards, planks and scantlings, $1,715,861; crude petroleum, $1,557,135; rice, $1,685,901; canned peaches, $1,260,398; canned sardines, $1,192,040, and dried prunes $1,167,932.

Showing a steady substantial growth, unsurpassed, it is claimed by any other interior California city, the assessment valuation and population of Bakersfield have more than doubled during the last decade. From $15,030,471 in 1918 the assessed valuation of this city has jumped to $31,819,205 for 1927, and the population increase has kept pace, rising from approximately 15,500 to 31,012 during the same period. Such are the figures compiled by a special committee of the Bakersfield Civic Commercial Association.

Never park the car with the wheels resting on a sharp rut or pointed stones. Rubber is easily cut, and there is a possibility of a puncture or a blowout.

200-Car Park Space Atop Chicago Garage

Parking space for 200 automobiles has been provided on the roof of a new garage in Chicago. A charge of 40 cents an hour is made, and there are special monthly rates. The parking space is reached by driving up a series of ramps from the street level. At night the roof is illuminated.

New Yorkers Abandon 200 Cars Each Year

Approximately 200 automobiles and trucks are abandoned each year on the streets of New York City. All removable parts of any value, accessories and marks of identification are usually removed from the deserted cars.

New York now has three large disposal yards full of automotive junk.

Children at the Door.

I have no trees before my house
To cast their pleasant shade,
About my windows never twine
The blossoms God has made,
But there are roses, sweeter far,
That on the pavements bloom—
The children of the city streets,
Whose laughter lights my room.

No hedges like a honeyed wall
Adorn my dwelling place,
No fountains weave upon my lawn
A web of twinkling lace,
For me no robins greet the sun,
A fan of rainbow gleams,
But children play before my house,
Who keep me young with dreams.

What loneliness the streets would know
If children were not here!
Their joyous voices bring a smile
Or wing away a tear.
The country house is rich, indeed,
With blossom, bird and tree,
But happy children at my door
Are wealth enough for me!

Polished Stone Made an Effective Mirror

An Indian mirror, made of a thin slab of highly-polished black stone, with one end narrowed to form a convenient handle, has just been discovered near Hazelton, British Columbia, by an archeological expedition of the Canadian government. The mirror was found in the prehistoric part of an ancient Gitsan Indian village site, Dr. Harlan I. Smith, Canadian archeologist, states in a communication to Science Service.

"These extremely rare specimens are known to have been used in prehistoric times by the totem pole Indians of Skeena valley," Doctor Smith writes. "One of the Hazelton Indians has demonstrated that these mirrors were used by wetting the stone and has shown that the wet polished surface actually reflects the human face so clearly that every individual hair and the color of the eyes may be seen. This Indian states that the mirror was used by the Indians when they were painting their faces for dances and ceremonies in the days before they could buy looking glasses from white men."

The specimen will be sent to the National Museum of Canada at Ottawa, Doctor Smith states.—Kansas City Star.

People Taking More Time for Enjoyment

One sometimes wonders in a crowded picture show house of immense size what the masses did before they had the three-reel films.

One answer is that they didn't have the free time to attend such affairs. A curve or graph representing the expansion of the movie and the printing industries would coincide in a remarkable fashion with the rise of the 16-hour day of leisure. How much further we can develop this resource in the future is for the oculists to determine, for there is a physical limit to the use that can be made of the eye.

Doubtless the psychologists will also have something to say about the number of books or films per diem that can be safely perused, for too much reading, like too little, makes Jack a dull boy.—Helen McAfee in the Century Magazine.

Taking another $1,000,000 bite from the more than $6,000,000 advantage of last year over 1927, Los Angeles building permit valuations for September reached $9,274,218, or more than $1,000,000 in excess of the same month in 1926. Figures are gleaned from a report by the city building department.

California's newly created State Tax Commission, which met at the Capitol last week for the first time, went on record as being opposed to making any change in the Federal tax laws that would react on California's State tax system. The action of the commission is aimed at the move of eastern organizations that have been legislators in a move to urge Congress to repeal the Federal inheritance tax, leaving the field of estate taxation solely to the States.

San Diego's bid for supremacy in the field of aircraft and aeronautical motor manufacture, as well as in the exploits of its airmen, received added impetus last week with the announcement of the Ryan Aeronautical corporation that it plans the construction of a $250,000 plant at San Diego for the building and distribution of the Ryan-Siemens five, seven and nine-cylinder radial air-cooled airplane engines.

Kern River district, one of the oldest producers of oil in California, continues to put forth the greatest effort in development of new wells as indicated in the weekly report of the state oil and gas supervisor. During the past week, five new holes, were begun there while one other well was spudded in near Buttonwillow in wildcat territory.

With the announcement of the board of directors of the Keystone Mines that plans are now under way to shortly start operations at this group of mines at Amador City, Amador County, the people of that community are looking to a revival of prosperous growth. The town of Amador City has practically been deserted for a number of years but the revival of mining activities in this group will mean the general revival of the entire mining industry in that part of Amador County.
In 37 shots fired in 32 minutes Terry Flannagan, prominent Stockton American Legion man, bagged 25 ducks on the opening morning of the duck season. He crept into his blind a few minutes before sunrise, and a few minutes later began blazing away. "The ducks were as thick as bees," said Flannagan.
